The Road Les Traveled

Suppose someone offered a million dollar reward To anyone willing to worship the Lord;
 To pray and give when the plate passed by,
 And volunteer for service without blinking an eye.
 I'm sure lots of people would show up at the door
 That the other church folk had never seen before.
 People who claimed they could never make time,

'Cause they are far too busy for religion sublime.
 Folks with back-aches would line the front pew,

And "week-end-out-of-towners" would all be there too.
 The "God-is-deaders" and "sleep-late-in-bedders"
 And "too-tired to get-up from long double-headers;"
 The "once-in-a-whilers" and "church-is-out-of-stylers,"
 The "don't-like-big-crowders" and "the-music-is-too-louder,"
 The "can't-find-a-riders" and embarrassed back-sliders,
 Complainers, and pouters, and complete down-and-outers.
 Yes, we would all be in church, and committed to stay,
 If only some philanthropist were willing to pay.

But reflect for a moment on what God has done,
 When for each one of us He sacrificed His Son.
 To think that God loved us even before birth,
 And maybe has already paid far more than we're worth.

See You Sunday? Brother Les

LET'S JAM

On June 5 the JAM class presented a drama in Praise and Traditional services called "Why Go?" about Discipleship and right choices. A group of kids on their way to church met some that did not go all the time and explained why they should go and learn about Jesus. The skit was based on Matthew 4:19: "Follow me and I will make you fishers of people."

Mission Trip 2011

Greetings, everyone, from Mission Trip!

We are here in Texas City doing some good things for God and having fun. On Saturday we drove down here and got everything set up. We met some church folk here at FCC Texas City. They surely are nice, but we weren't surprised. Sunday morning we got up and went to worship with them. We had a warm welcome and were even invited to a luncheon! We spent the afternoon at the beach in Galveston. On Monday we went to Habitat for Horses. It is a wonderful organization that takes care of horses that have been abused and horses that have to be relinquished because the owners can't care for them any more. We helped feed them, water them, brush and groom them. We also helped rearrange the organization's office.

On Tuesday we went to the Houston Food Bank and worked for eight hours sorting food. It was a long exhausting day, but we left feeling like we really made a difference. Then we headed to the beach again for a night swim. Refreshing! On Wednesday we had a nice sleep-in followed by brunch. Then we went shopping for the meal we were cooking for Ronald McDonald house and flowers for landscaping the church. Right now, as I'm sitting here typing, the young people are planting flowers in the front of the church while chicken cooks for tonight. We will head out to the RMD house soon to take 15 families a good hot meal.

Tomorrow we will be headed to Habitat for Humanity to help build houses and then out to Kemah to enjoy a nice night together on the town. Friday, of course, we head home. Please ask one of these teens to tell you all about how this trip has changed others' lives, and then watch their faces so you can see how it has changed them. Thank you to all of you who financially support us so we can do this. Thank you to the parents who allow these youth to be a part of the youth group. Thank you, FCC Texas City, for hosting us. Thank you to my cohorts in crime who accompanied the youth: Carolyn King and Chris Burns. And thank you so so much, Michael Fuller, for all you do for our youth group. Without you, this Mission Trip would not have been possible. We have missed you so much this year.

From Texas City,
Susan
